HERE'S WHY:

- More qualified personnel read APB than any other law enforcement magazine in the world.
- APB* has a major presence at law enforcement trade shows, conventions, seminars, and training conferences, as well as at larger police academies and in-service trainings.
- APB* reaches every size and type of agency - federal, county, state, and municipal.
- Each issue of APB is read by over 23,000 police chiefs, sheriffs, and command staff, along with the directors of major training academies and decision makers in the military and federal government's law enforcement branches.
- We reach the people who make the budget choices for their departments, including fleet managers and procurement division chiefs.
